ALPHA CHI

Virginia Intermont recognizes the importance of first-hand knowledge in the fields of literature, theatre, music, and the over-all academic program. Upon creditable performance in these areas, a student is eligible for membership in the Honor Societies.

Alpha Chi National Honor Society is a society based on the good character and academic standing of students. Membership is open to all juniors and seniors being in the top 10% of the class.

Held on an rotating basis, are regional and national conventions. Students from all over the nation come to give and see the presentations that are from the student's particular study field. VI will be represented this year by Sally Hinkle and Erica Schumann by a presentation in the horsemanship field at the regional meeting held in Charleston, S.C.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Virginia Intermont College is an active member of Alpha Psi Omega Dramatic Fraternity. Alpha Psi was founded in 1925 as a national honorary dramatic fraternity to recognize and reward all phases of Student participation in university and college play production. Virginia Intermont hosts the Chi Rho Cast.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Each student is a member of the Athletic Association. During the year, all students are invited to participate in intramural and Association sponsered picnics and events.

The Athletic Association is governed by a faculty member of the Physical Education faculty and a council made up of the following officers: president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, publicity chairman, a student head of each sport; the presidents of the V.I. Equestrian Club, the H_2O Club and Orchesis; and the managers of the basketball, volleyball, and tennis teams.

Officers: Mary L. Riviello, Cheryl Dadey, Robin Breedlove

MERCHANDISING CLUB

All students interested in Merchandising, Management, Photography, or Fashion are eligible for membership. The club sponsors various fashion shows throughout the year and offers a combination career/market visit to New York and/or Atlanta. Each year it presents the Lu Murphy Whitaker Award to an outstanding senior based on leadership, academic effort and potential for success in the business world.

Virginia Intermont College is an active member of the Society For Collegiate Journalists. SCJ was founded in 1909 as Pi Delta Epsilon; in 1975 it merged with Alpha Phi Gamma. The purpose of the organization is to elevate the cause of mass communications; to teach the ethics, techniques, and mechanics of good communication; and to participate in campus communication media.

SCJ, now in its second year, is designed to help improve the student newspaper, radio and yearbook. SCJ took a firm stand to keep and improve the yearbook and to improve the quality of the newspaper. SCJ has planned fund raisers during the school term and is now making preparations for the 1983 National Convention to be held at the college of William & Mary in Williamsburg, Va.

The main objective of this honor society is to encourage students to promote and to work with all forms of campus mass media.

CHOIR

The Virginia Intermont Choir learns a wide variety of music suitable for church services, banquets, and concerts. The Choir performs during all special campus weekends and often tours, giving concerts in churches and schools and making appearances on radio and television. Recent tours have been to metropolitan areas along the Eastern seaboard and to Europe.

The instrumental ensembles vary from semester to semester because of the needs and interests of students. Those ensembles that are always offered include band (pictured), brass ensemble, and the flute choir. Others are organized according to the needs and abilities of the students involved. The various instrumental ensembles present concerts throughout the year, and accompany the choral ensembles on special occasions.

As an institution affiliated with the Baptist General Association of Virginia, the College places an emphasis on respect for traditional religious values and on the maintenance of an atmosphere of inquiry and growth. Students of all denominations and faiths are welcomed as an integral part of the community, and some twenty religious groups are represented each year. There are voluntary weekly chapel services and special celebrations during the school year. Discussion groups on the Bible, personal growth, and other subjects are offered through the Christian Student Fellowship.

CIRCLE K is the world's largest collegiate service organization represented by over 700 clubs located on campuses throughout the WESTERN HEMISPHERE. It is composed of students who wish to become actively involved in community concerns via service projects and activities. As an organization, CIRCLE K does not limit itself to one or two particular service activities. Members also participate is social events, learn leadership skills, work with business and community heads, and form long-lasting friendship while striving toward common goals and having a great time doing it.

Club Officers: Co Presidents Cathy Wallace and Joe Macey; Secretary/Treasurer Cathy Chubb.

The Social Work Action Group seeks to promote mutual interaction and exchange among students, faculty, and community; student input into local and national affairs; integration of professional attitude, social awareness and social action; and academic excellence. Each year the club presents the Social Work Student of the Year Award to an outstanding social work student. Membership is primarily composed of Social Work and Psychology/Sociology majors, but all interested, active students are encouraged and welcome to join and become involved.

Activities for this year included fundraises such as bake sales in coordination with the Coffeehouse and raffling off a giant Christmas stocking with all proceeds going to charity. Community projects included Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets given to the needy during these holidays. Students also participated in social activities such as bowling and pizza parties and picnics.

EQUESTRIAN CLUB

The Equestrian Club is an organization set up to promote horsemanship activities on and off campus. This is accomplished through the various committee projects. The club is run mainly by the students themselves, assisted by the horsemanship instructors and outside sponsors.

The different committees that are available are Publicity, Athletic Association Officer, Historians, Hospitality and Reception, Horse Showing and Judging, and the Banquet Committee.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association is a special organization on any campus, and in recent years on the V.I. campus, it was seen as a mechanical organization that just went through the motions of dealing with trivial items. This year, it took a turn about.

Sick of the student apathy on the campus, a few individuals took it upon themselves to help change this attitude, and decided that the best way was through a campus organization such as the S.G.A. One very important person was the outspoken, sensible and smart Judy Guy. Talking about the possibility of becoming President as a farce, it grew into a serious consideration, and lucky for the student body, it became a reality. With the help of the members in S.G.A. and Dr. Sharpe, acting dean of students, Guy helped to make Virginia Intermont a better place to attend.

SPECIAL SERVICES

The Special Services Program, including courses for credit, peer-tutoring, and individual counseling, is planned to assist eligible students toward achievement of their academic goals.

Each year at Parent's Weekend, Special Services presents a "Talent From Home" program and related display. Individual talent as well as traditional songs and dances are featured.

CARDINAL KEY

Cardinal Key is a National Leadership Sorority. It is to represent those juniors and seniors thought to be the leaders on campus and hold promise for the future. The students must not only excel in campus activities, but a scholastic achievement of a 3.0 GPA is also a prerequisite for membership. Because it is a service organization, the members participate in various projects such as fund-raising for Children's Diabetes, "Anything Goes" games during freshmen registration, serving refreshments for Parent's Weekend, a Halloween Festival, and many other activities.

The Division of Applied and Professional Studies include the Business, Home Economics, and Computer Information Management departments.

The Business Department offers 4 majors: in Management — a 4 year program leading to the B.A. degree. Office Administration — a 4 year program leading to the BA degree. Fashion Merchandising — a 4 year program leading to the B.A. degree. Secretarial Studies — a 2 year program leading to the A.A. degree

The recently expanded Computer Information Management major is a 4 year program leading to the B.A. degree that emphasizes personal instruction. The student is exposed to hands on training (learning by doing) rather than only lecture and classroom instruction. Individual instruction and tutoring always available. Higher level languages include: FORTRAN, COBOL, PILOT, and PASCAL.

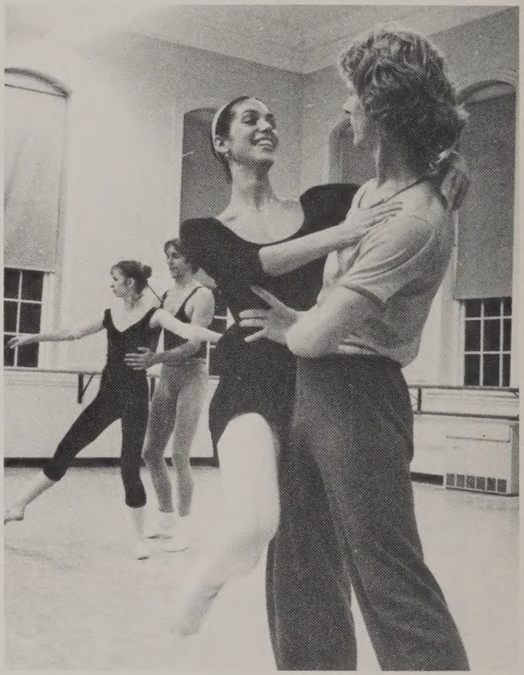
The Virginia Intermont Ballet Department, in its ninth year, is currently training fifty-seven girls and twelve boys to become professional dancers and teachers.

Through the auspices of the business related Bristol Ballet Junior and Branch Schools and the Bristol Ballet Company, Virginia Intermont students receive in-depth training and experience as teachers and extensive and varied performing opportunities.

Master Teachers and Choreographers during the 1981-82 year have included Ron Colton, director of the Augusta Ballet, Richard Munro, Ballet Master of the Houston Ballet, Jill Bahr associated with the Memphis Ballet and David Howard, one of the outstanding professional teachers in New York with whom Baryshnikov currently studies.



Virginia Intermont College offers a Bachelor of Arts in English: Creative Writing. The purpose of this program is to provide the serious new writer with the support and encouragement that is necessary for the development of creative skills.

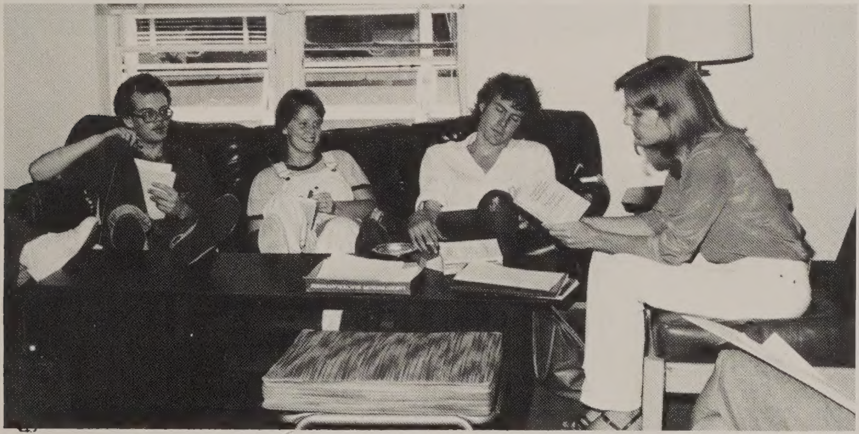
ENGLISH

THE PROGRAM FOR WRITERS

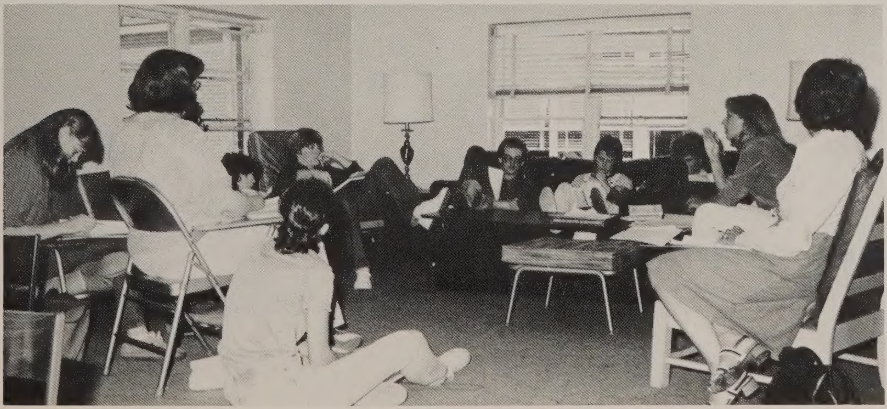
The creative writing program is committed to the idea that you should have the necessary freedom to develop an individual voice. As a student writer, you will be encouraged to develop a sound criticism of your creative abilities. To achieve this, the Writing Program not only offers the study of literature and criticism, but creative writing workshops and independent study courses. At Virginia Intermont College, you will find the English faculty totally committed to creative writing. English classes are small and intense. You will receive the personal attention and encouragement not found at other colleges.

Rodney Jones, Director of the Creative Writing Program, reveals to students future plans for the creative writing program. Jones' collection of poems, The Story They Told Us of Light, was a selection in the 1980 Associated Writing Program Awards Series.

Reviewing out of class work for input & critique by other class members.



Jean Schachtschneider, faculty member, and students discuss new writings during an informal class. Ms. Schachtschneider is the winner of the Mademoiselle College Fiction Competition.



Outstanding writers come to campus each semester to give public readings and to talk with students informally and in workshops. Each weekend workshop enables you to meet a writer with a national reputation and to earn one semester hour credit. These writers have included Marge Piercy, William Stafford, Linda Pastan, George Garrett, Betty Adcock, Carolyn Forché, Daniel Mark Epstein, Coleman Barks, Stephen Dunn, Susan Ludvigson, Donald Justice, Eve Shelnutt, Gerald Barrax, Barry Targan, and Greg Pape. You may enroll in as many as three workshops each year.

COMMUNICATIONS

Mass Media is another name for the V.I. Communication department. This past year, students in the department were all involved in either "The Cauldron," the student newspaper, or WVI radio, the student managed and operated radio station.

Students in this program study each media and choose which area that interests them. The students then participate in either the newspaper or the radio and use what they have learned in the classroom through practical experience.

This year according to Larry Dinges, director of the Communications department, was "the best year yet." Dinges went on to say that "although only in its second year, the group of students in the Communications department were the most responsible and hardest working I have seen." It was proven in the successes this year of both the Cauldron and WVI Radio.

NATURAL SCIENCES

The Department of Biology and Allied Health Sciences has responded to the need of qualified professionals by establishing several programs of academic study. Such undergraduate training provides an opportunity for students to attain an excellent background for subsequent work in a variety of careers.

Courses included in the Natural Sciences are chemistry, biology, zoology, physical science, and others. Also included is the medical laboratory technician program as offered in affiliation with Bristol Memorial Hospital. Upon successful completion of these programs, students find many opportunities in highly marketable positions.

To: The Students of Virginia Intermont College

From: Yearbook Editor, Sally Hinkle

I wanted to this yearbook to be the best ever. As you can see by flipping through, it isn't. Strictly against his better judgement, Dean Nunn allowed us to have this book because I persuaded him that I could get enough students to work on it. My optimism soon died because very few would help. As one person told me, I can't get anyone to work, so I'm quitting. That statement describes the situation perfectly. So yes, there will be mistakes, and no one is sorrier or more upset about them than I am.

There won't be a yearbook next year, because of the lack of interest students have on putting forth any effort to publish a respectable book. I am graduating so it won't effect me, but I still feel sorry for all the returning underclassmen.

I hesitate to name the people that did help out, because I don't want to leave anyone out, but I am going to try. Half the pictures in the book were taken and developed by Robin "Boo" Hasty. Rob — I can't even begin to thank you. Janeen Davis did a majority of the others, plus some art work. Also helping out with the photography were Julia Scheer and Jay Halloman. In addition were Cathy Wallace with layout; Travis Ballou with artwork; and Lisa Overstreet and Rodney Mort with classes. Mrs. Canter did her department and I thank you all, but especially Mr. Larry Dinges for putting up with this project that no one else would touch, and doing it in the manner of the professional that he is.

Don't direct any anger or annoyance at those mentioned above. Direct it toward a positive source such as becoming active in affairs that concern you, whether it be in school or in personal endeavors.

VIRGINIA INTERMONT COLLEGE'S INTERCOLLEGIAT HORSE SHOW TEAM

Virginia Intermont is a strong competitor in the intercollegiate horseshow system. This national show system is divided into numerous subdivisions for all levels and abilities from Beginning Walk/Trot, to Open Equitation over fences. Riders must win a predetermined number of points to qualify for the one Regional show. Only the winner of his class at Regionals may go on to compete at the Nationals held every spring.

This is a very tough sport, and the difficulty is increased since riders draw from the hosts school horses to ride in the classes. What you draw is what you ride, with no more than a walk to warm up.

This year, as in previous ones, V.I. will send more than ten riders to go to the Regional Horseshow, all with the hopes of continuing on to Nationals. For the past four years, V.I. riders have been Champion or Reserve in their divisions, the most recent being Christine Margiotta in the Advanced Walk/Trot/Canter division.

Setting up the course is always hectis, but everything was fine, right down to the mums.

This year, something new was brought to VI. Dr. Sheila Sharpe, our WONDERFUL Dean of Students, started get togethers called Take A Breaks. On the following pages, see what the Christmas result was. This is the first time that majors of all types joined together and really had a terrific time. Keep it up Dr. Sharpe! We really appreciate it.

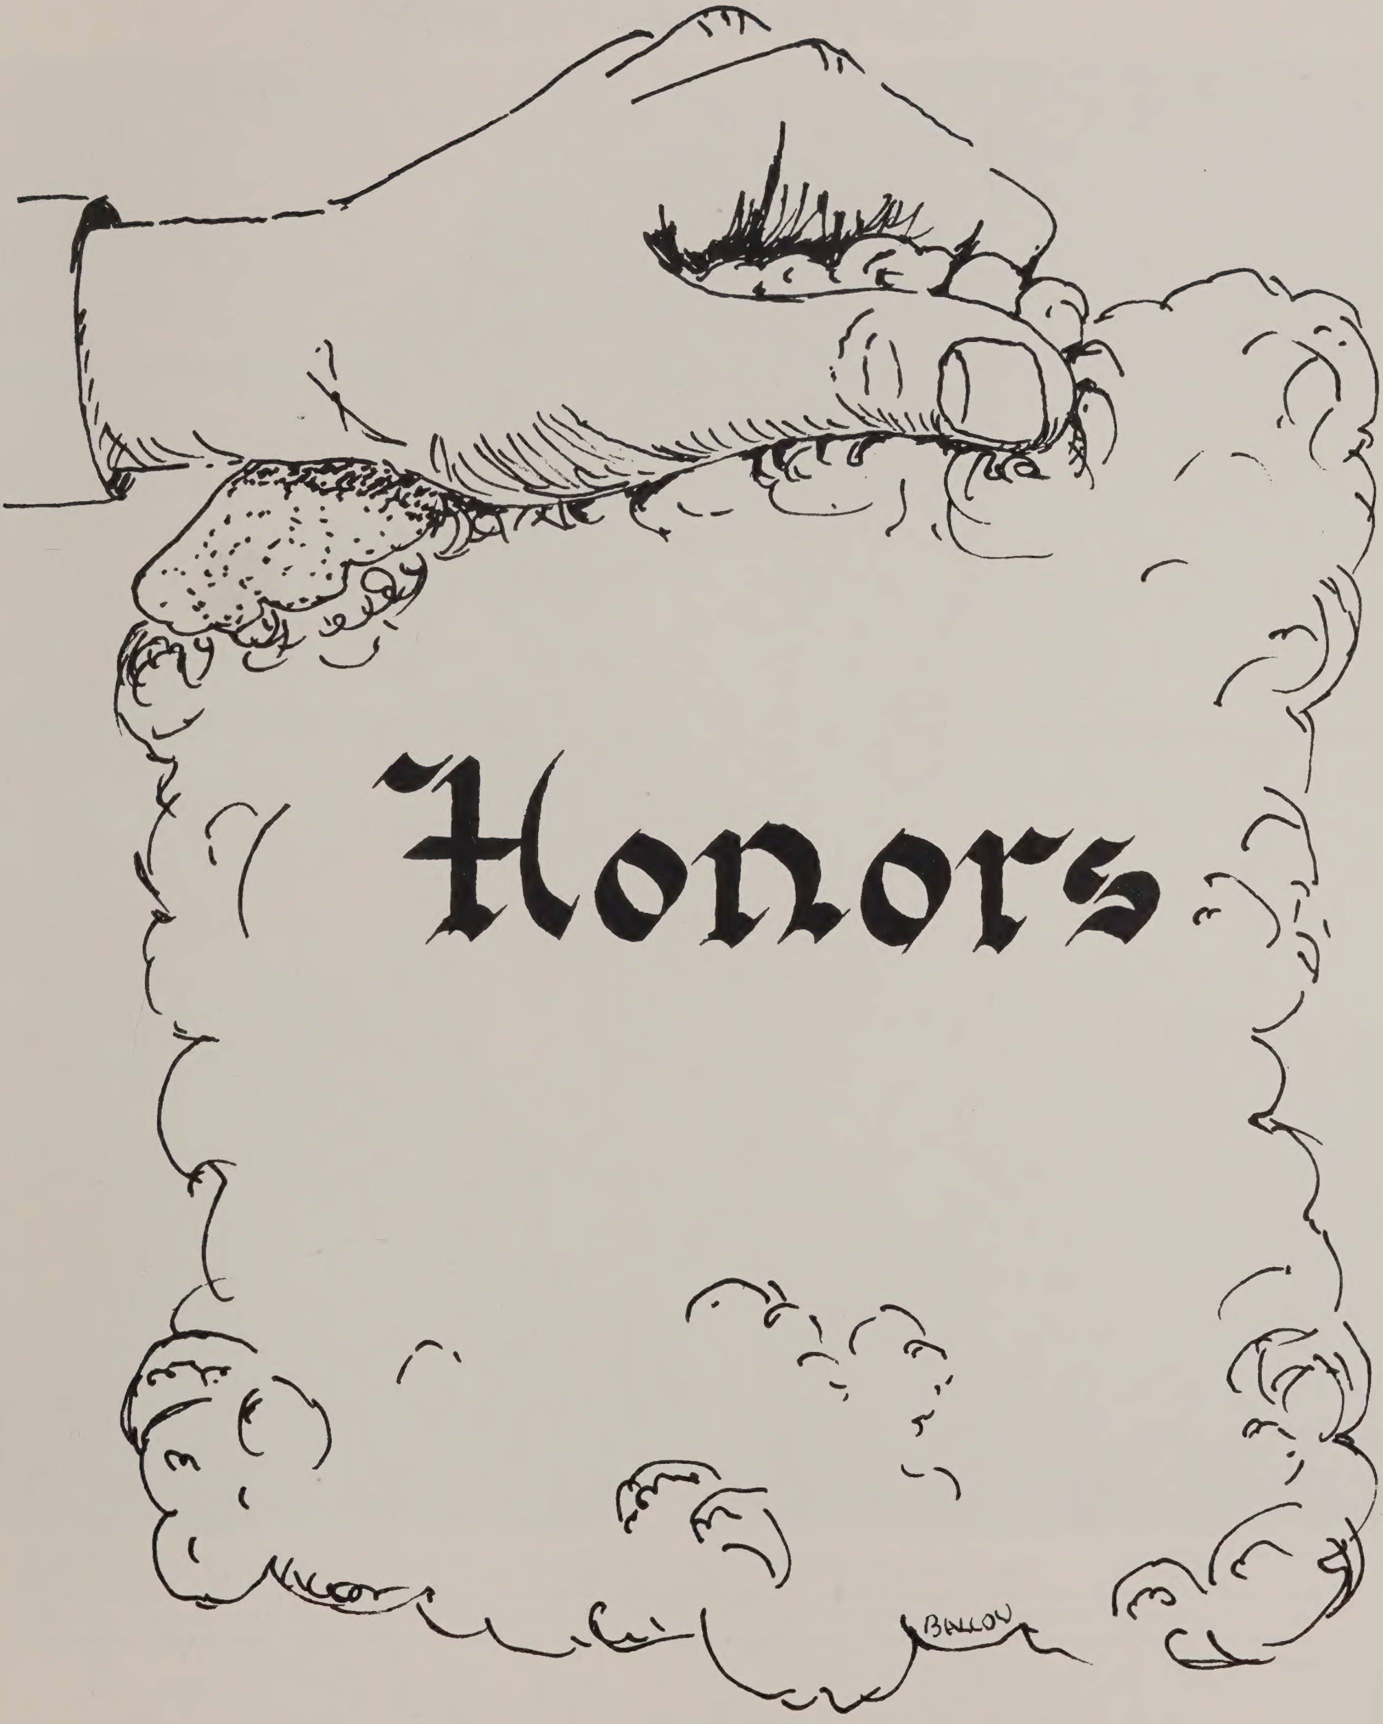
Honors



OUTSTANDING FACULTY

The Outstanding Faculty Award is presented annually by the Cauldron, Virginia Intermont's student newspaper, and its recipient is chosen by student election. This year, by a landslide, the winner is Dr. Sheila Sharpe, the Dean of Students and still a faculty member. Oh Dr. Sharpe, what can we say? You have done so much for this school in the short time that you have been Dean, much more than most realize. You are such a fantastic addition; you care about the students and go out of your way to help us and listen to us. You will never know how much that means. We are fairly treated in a nice but firm way. Thank you for helping out this school. Hopefully our appreciation shows.

APPLE BLOSSOM PRINCESS

The Apple Blossom Princess is selected by President Dr. Glass on the basis of beauty, charm, and poise. This year, Amy Dolce was chosen on the high possession of all of these qualities.
